

“It’s Our Move!”

Madison Hosts, Maurice Ashley, Grandmaster of Chess
August 15, 2008

“Chess is often referred to as “a thinking person’s game .” This is because the simple objective can be played out through an infinite number of techniques and strategies. The game requires concentration, focus, foresight and strategic thinking. These are skills that contribute to individuals’ success in education, business and in life. Asset Builders of America Inc., and a broad array of collaborators have come together to bring a truly exciting Chess Event to the City of Madison.
